

Centering the Margin: Agency and Narrative in Southeast Asian Borderlands (Paperback)

By -

Berghahn Books, United Kingdom, 2008. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English. Brand new Book. "An excellent collection that should be read by all scholars of Southeast Asia, and that should provoke more thought and research on the people whose lives and practices continue to connect Southeast Asian nation-states." * JRAI "The literature on borders and borderlands, the state, globalization and ethnic minorities, is now huge, but the editors of this book do a good job of summarizing most of it in their introduction. This book! will swiftly become a key reading in university courses dealing with borderlands and Southeast Asia." * Bijdragen tot de Taal-, Land- en Volkenkunde "Each of the studies is well worth making available and the set of them offers a useful addition to the literature on borders and migration." * Anthropos In a completely new approach to borders and border crossing, this volume suggests a re-conceptualization of the nation in Southeast Asia. Choosing an actor approach, the individual chapters in this volume capture the narratives of minorities, migrants and refugees who inhabit and cross borders as part of their everyday life. They show that people are not only constrained by borders; the crossing of borders also opens up new...
